Description of thesis subject

The BAUHAUS4EU European alliance comprises 10 universities in 9 European countries, and has set itself the goal of developing a joint campus on a European scale. This new university will contribute to a sustainable transformation of our respective territories, and promote an inclusive and equitable transition. The alliance is founded on a set of values, including social justice, gender equality, academic freedom and empathy.

The alliance has also established a set of academic themes, which serve as a basis for cooperation. The doctoral thesis must therefore address one of the following themes, which have been defined in the project and are inspired by the New European Bauhaus Initiative (New European Bauhaus: beautiful, sustainable, together - European Union). They also tie in with the Auvergne-Rhône-Alpes Region's Regional Innovation Strategy for Intelligent Specialization:

- Sustainable living spaces ;
- Cultural and creative industries ;
- Sustainable/social innovation ;
- Sustainable and inclusive tourism;
- Intelligent building ;
- Urban-rural disparities ;
- Built and cultural heritage ;
- Renovation of urban spaces ;
- Adaptation and resilience of anthropized spaces ;
- Territorial development ;

The BAUHAUS4EU project includes a commitment to develop joint doctoral programmes at alliance level, in line with the needs of territories in terms of resilience and sustainability. The candidate will be expected to demonstrate that his or her doctorate is in line with this approach. To this end, the candidate will represent Lumière Lyon 2 on the Alliance's PhD Council.

Working environment

The PhD student will be recruited by Université Lumière Lyon 2 for a 36-month period. He or she will be enrolled in a doctoral program within ED 483, under international cotutelle with one of the establishments in the alliance (with the exception of Université Jules Verne Picardie):
